

with little sleep i set out to locate the cemetary. I had intended to go walk along the beach first, but didn't leave early enough.

Slam

I drive around for a long while looking for a place to walk, but in this area of NJ it's all concrete and pavement.

when i get to the cemetary i locate the caretaker who show's me Just where to go

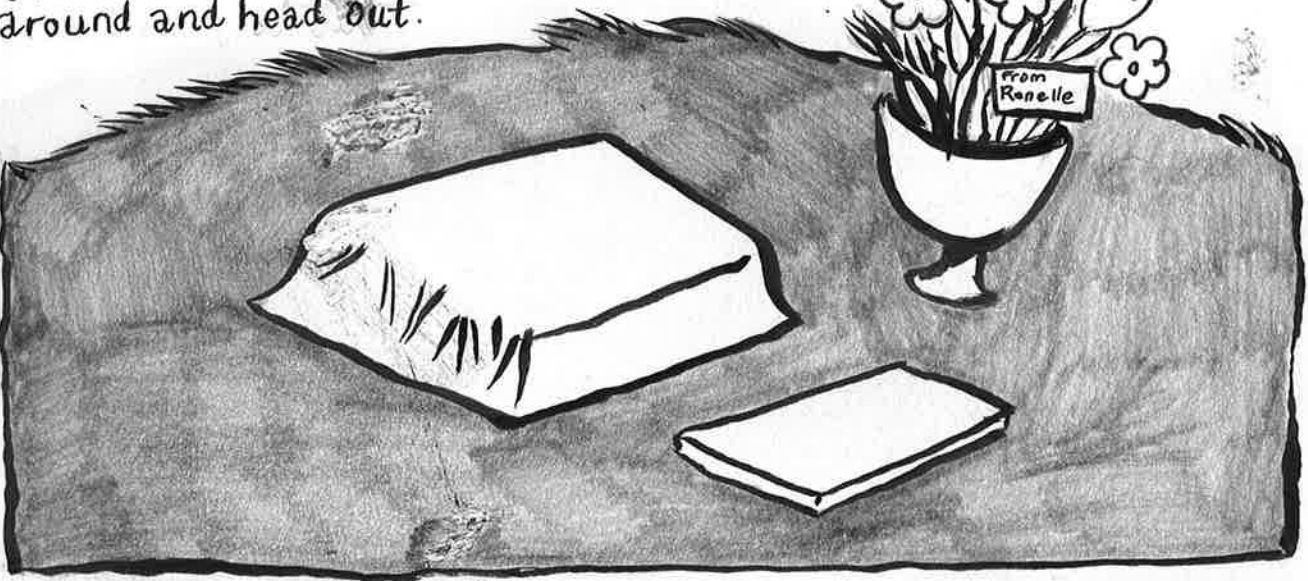

David. Hey. Yeah i couldn't make it. My mother's sister passed away and i decided to attend the funeral in New Jersey.

i find the site rather easily, but i'm over an hour early, so i circle back around and head out.

I hang up the phone and pace around the parking lot of a nearby motel for a bit.

Then make my way back to my car. i'm ready to see the Kaminskis and pay my respects.
